Bloodborne Pathogens: Exposure In The Workplace

Running Time: 31:02

If an accident occurs...responders, bystanders, and cleanup personnel all risk coming into contact with bloodborne contamination and diseases such as HIV, and hepatitis B or C. Help employees understand how bloodborne disease is and isn't spread, to help them avoid exposure.

The video opens with a compelling "risk scenario" and shows the simple mistakes that employees can make when exposed to bloodborne pathogens at work. Addresses these key training topics:

- Bloodborne diseases and how they're spread
- OSHA's Exposure Control Plan requirements
- How to respond to emergencies involving blood
- Hepatitis B vaccine, exposure evaluation and follow-up
- Personal protective equipment
- Signs and labels used to warn of potential hazards (such as the biohazard symbol)
